

“I am a registered nurse working in women’s health. That’s why I was shocked when I recently discovered that my health insurance charged me a hefty co-pay for birth control. Your insurance may do the same thing.”

–Michelle Holshue, Philadelphia, PA

Thanks to America’s New Health Care Law, birth control for women like YOU will soon be available for FREE.

Under America's New Health Care Law signed by President Obama, many of YOUR preventive services could be FREE.

America's New Health Care Law Means YOUR Mammograms, Pap Smears and other preventive services will now be FREE—no more co-pays for contraception and other important services:

- Mammography for women over 40.
- Regular pap smears your doctor recommends.
- Well-woman visits and birth control beginning August 1, 2012.
